

Final Evaluation (CTEF) for Chan, Roy Yew-Hung UNI STU 2 DIS B21 (87221),
Fall Qtr 2008

A. Please comment on the following areas and be as specific as possible:

1. What are the instructor's teaching strengths?

- - very friendly, explains information really well
- Easily accessible and responsive to questions.
- Fair grader, made the class exciting by playing games while incorporating information
- fun, nice
- he's funny
- He is able to demonstrate to the class what is needed in college. He is also a fun person and very enjoyable. He loves the things he does. He is really passionate about the things he teaches.
- He is very friendly and outgoing and really interested in you as a person. He has a planned schedule of what to do during the discussion time, but is willing to mix it up or do something else if the students feel the time would be better used doing something else.
- he was good at sending out emails and responding to them, it was very easy to communicate with him. he knew the course material well, knew all of the students, and was friendly.
- He was helpful and communicates well with students.
- i like how he wanted to create a connection for everyone by doing icebreakers everyday, but then that got to be kind of repetitive.
- Mr. Chan is extremely personable and tries hard to make class interesting, in contrast with some of the lectures. He is also very intelligent and well spoken and I hoped that discussion would be a bit longer so that the students could get to know him more. He is very engaging as well and keeps the student's attention.
- Very enthusiastic and friendly to students.
- Very nice person. Great Guy!

2. How can this instructor improve as a teacher?

- -don't be too lenient
- Dig deeper into content.
- hes awesome!
- I think Roy did a great job of teaching, but sometimes he ran short on time so I guess just managing the discussion time a little bit better would help the class to run more smoothly. Other than that, he does a great job!
- I was really pleased with Roy and detected no flaws which I thought needed to be remedied.
- n/q
- nothing, he was cool
- Roy is chill, but his chill attitude allows him to be a pushover, so maybe being a bit more stern will have more results with the homework
- The only thing I can think of is the mis-pronunciation of words. Honestly, Mr. Chan is a great teacher and is obviously very intelligent, however, I think this tip may help him come off as more professional than he is right now :) Okay, so Roy when you pronounce past tense words, you usually add an extra -ed, for instance "accumulated" would be pronounced by you as "accumulated-ed" which is unnecessary :)
- Try to become more knowledgeable about the course material.

3. Any other comments about this course?

- Had a great quarter with the teacher. Understands content very well and knows how to convey it.
- i know it's the student's responsibility but it would be helpful to stress important events (or send email specifically addressing this), such as the advising sessions.
- i liked this course overall in comparison to lecture. the end.
- its a fun class, very helpful for transitioning to college.
- Lots of work
- No.
- Roy was always available to give help whether through e-mail or office hours. Whenever I had a question, he was quick to respond which was awesome. The course in general was fairly helpful but sometimes was a little dry.
- Somewhat interesting and enriching.
- the course is helpful in teaching about the resources offered at uci, but not necessarily helpful in choosing a major, the first project we did was pointless, and so were the journals and resumes. lecture helped sometimes, i wish we had more presentations about majors in the school of social sciences and social ecology and humanities instead of physics and engineering. the second project about choosing a career path was helpful, it made the road to a career seem more realistic. the sds assessment was not helpful, nor was a lot of the information in the course reader.
