To Whom It May Concern:

This letter is to verify that Roy Chan is serving as a WorldTeach volunteer teacher in Hunan Province, China teaching English from August, 2009 through July, 2010. Roy is serving as a full-time oral English teacher at Hengyang Number Eight Middle School in Hengyang, Hunan.

In each of our programs, volunteers are placed in schools and host communities in developing countries that specifically request WorldTeach volunteers and would otherwise be unable to afford or locate qualified teachers. Volunteers receive training, language preparation, and field support, empowering them to make an impact that will last long after they leave.

WorldTeach is a non-profit, non-governmental organization based at the Center for International Development at Harvard University which provides opportunities for individuals to make a meaningful contribution to international education by living and working as volunteer teachers in developing countries. Now in its 23rd year, WorldTeach has established a proud history of contributing to international education and development and promoting cultural exchange through quality volunteer programs.

If you need any further information, please feel free to call the WorldTeach office at (617) 495-5527. Thank you.

Sincerely,
